Almost totally paralyzed after a swimming accident in Gull Lake last June, Robbie Young, 18-year-old Minden athlete, came home from a Toronto hospital for the first time last week. To make his homecoming especially enjoyable, the Rotary Club of Minden presented Robbie with a cheque for some $1,144 raised last

Toronto man charged in hit and run accident

As a result of an accident early Saturday evening, a Toronto man, 63-year-old John Wilson, has been charged with failing to remain at the scene of the collision, in which his westbound vehicle side-swiped an eastbound car driven by Paul E. Brohm, age 28 of Port Hope.

There was an estimated $1,200.00 damage to the Brohm vehicle, and $700.00 to the Wilson car.

Brohm was taken to the Haliburton Hospital with cuts and bruises. The accident is still under further investigation by Constable R.J. Wood of the Minden Detachment.

More flying saucers reported in Minden

More than falling leaves are reported to be flying through the autumn skies in the Minden area.

After a lull of several months with no known sightings in that area since the incidents which were reported during the winter and early spring, unidentified flying objects are again being sighted.

The most recent occurrences have been reported in the Gull Lake area and the description given is remarkably similar to those which were reported at the time of the sightings around Boshkung Lake and not unlike those given by observers who witnessed the phenomena while travelling along highways thereabouts.

Minden hydro worker Allan Rogers and his son were returning to their home via Highway 35 around 8:00 p.m. on a Friday evening when two fast-moving, low-flying objects flitted about Gull Lake and held them spellbound.

They first noticed the unidentified flying objects as they passed through Miner's Bay. Their description is that each object had blinking lights - green on top and red below - and appeared to be only a couple of miles distant. The pair said that although the blinking lights had no apparent pattern or sequence, the two objects appeared at one point to be following hydro tower lines at about tree-top level and on a north-south course.

Both Mr. Rogers and his son said afterwards the strange sky riders were unlike any known aircraft and could change direction abruptly and at very high speed.

To compound the mystery created by the sightings reported near Minden, a young person in the Pleasant Point area was more than a little put out when her peers tended to discredit a story she related to them one recent evening. It seems she had been outside her cottage when she witnessed a strange lighted object take to the air and appear to go straight up. She was startled by the experience and whatever it was she saw, it was in marked contrast to the everyday things such as planes and helicopters which might be expected to be seen flying through the sky.

Cottagers join water sampling program

Cottagers on 150 recreational lakes joined Environment Ontario in a self-help water quality sampling program this year, the Ministry announced recently.

This program encourages residents, cottagers and marina and resort owners to be aware of and to understand water pollution problems in our vacation country. In addition, their voluntary assistance to staff of the Ministries of the Environment and Natural Resources contributes materially to the identification and solution of water quality problems.

The first self-help sampling with Secchi discs was done on 12 lakes in 1971. The number of lakes in the testing program has increased steadily every year.

Environment Ontario supplies Secchi discs to cottagers - discs painted with black and white alternating quarters. These are lowered into lake water until they disappear from view and the depth to which they are visible is recorded. In addition, Ministry staff supplies composite sampling devices which are lowered in to the lakes to secure chlorophyll a samples. Chlorophyll a, the green pigment involved in photosynthesis, indicates the amount of algae and therefore the extent of biological activity in a lake at the time of sampling.

Ideally, these samplings are conducted weekly as long as a lake is ice-free and forwarded to Environment Ontario's laboratory in Metropolitan Toronto for analysis. During the winter months, the results of the testing program are summarized and reports prepared which are returned to the individuals participating in the study and released to the public.

Ministry biologists use information gathered from the Secchi disc and chlorophyll a sampling in determining the amount of nutrient enrichment in a given lake. With this information, detrimental changes in water quality can be identified and remedial steps taken.

As pointed out above, Secchi disc readings indicate the depth to which light penetrates in a lake and chlorophyll a is a photosynthetic green pigment in algae. Since light penetration is affected by algal cells suspended in water, a good correlation should exist between the depth to which light penetrates and the amount of chlorophyll a in a series of lakes of varying degrees of enrichment, assuming that colour and suspended particulate materials contribute minimally to light transmission.

Biologists of the Ministry's Limnology and Toxicity Section have noted that a "near-hyperbolic" relationship exists between Secchi disc readings and chlorophyll a concentrations. This relationship is based on sets of data collected from approximately 187 lakes in the Province.

"Oligotrophic" or "nutrient-poor" waters (i.e. Lakes Joseph, Rosseau, Superior, Kennesis, Hall's, Big Hawk and Billings) which allow significant light penetration and have low chlorophyll a levels lie along the vertical axis of the hyperbola while points for "eutrophic" or "highly enriched" lakes (i.e. Riley Lake, Bay of Quinte, Granvenhurst Bay, Lulu Lake and the Western Basin of Lake Erie) are characterized by poor water clarity and high chlorophyll a concentrations and are situated along the horizontal limb.

Data for "mesotrophic" or "moderately productive" lakes (i.e. Lakes Muskoka, Little Straggle, Pigeon, Chemung, Sturgeon and Little Glamor) are dispersed about the middle section of the curve.

The curve is most useful in reflecting water quality improvements or impairment. For example, in 1971 Little Otter Lake was characterized by mean Secchi disc values and chlorophyll a concentrations of 1.0 meters and 31.2 micrograms per liter, respectively; the lake was akin to a can of green paint. Following elimination of a significant proportion of the total artificial phosphorus loading to the system (phosphorus is considered to be a key nutrient contributing to algal production in most freshwater systems), spectacular water quality improvements materialized in the lake.

These changes are clearly apparent with the relationship as Little Otter Lake moved along the curve from a highly enriched lake (Number 29) to a decidedly improved position (Number 30).

Similarly, and considering the self-help program, the curve should be extremely useful in assessing whether or not detrimental changes in water quality are materializing so that remedial measures could be implemented before lake quality conditions become critical.

This year's initial report entitled "Enrichment Status of Thirty-Five Lakes in the Haliburton Highlands Region" has recently been released by staff of the Ministry. In general, the biological quality as indicated by Secchi disc - chlorophyll a measurements was excellent. However, some concern was expressed relative to the occasionally high levels of algae encountered in Big Straggle, George's and Little Glamor Lakes.

For lakes, having two to three consecutive years of data, only minor positional changes in Secchi disc - chlorophyll a relationships were noted, indicating that evidence of accelerating enrichment is not yet apparent. The report suggested that in order to maintain the excellent water quality which exists throughout much of the Haliburton Highlands area, every effort should be made to ensure that nutrients from sink and laundry wastes, septic tank seepage and garden fertilizers do not gain access to the lakes.

All these reports now contain a section entitled "Information of General Interest to Cottagers" which personnel of the Ministry hope will be widely read and serve as a useful reference on such topics as natural lake processes, boating regulations, water treatment and septic tank installations.

Individuals requiring additional information on the Secchi disc - chlorophyll a self-help program or copies of the Haliburton Highlands study are requested to write to: Ontario Ministry of the Environment, Water Resources Branch, Limnology & Toxicity Section, P.O. Box 213, Rexdale, Ontario, M9W 5L1, (telephone 248-3058).

Canoeist returns from Labrador

Bob Davis, Haliburton's canoeist, has returned home safe and sound after a three-month sojourn in Labrador. He speaks very highly of the hospitality of the eskimos with whom he spent considerable time and actually gained weight on he many feasts of caribou steaks and arctic char.

Bob says the winter set in to stay in Mid-September and the native peoples had already made certain of ample food for the long months ahead. He has many interesting tales to tell of hunting caribou and fishing for salmon and char.

He took over 500 photographs of life along the George River Community and Ungava Bay which should give a first hand picture of the hardships and ingenuity of this proud race of people.

We are glad to welcome Bob back to our midst.

Obituary

Richard Delaney

Richard (Dick) Delaney, a cottager for many years in the Haliburton area, passed away Saturday, September 21, at Willowdale where he was a resident.

Mr Delaney had planned an early retirement to the Haliburton area at Haliburton Lake next year.

He is survived by his wife Audrey, five children: Judy (Mrs T Reynolds) Donna (Mrs P Brown) Diane (Mrs R W Devolin) Bryce Warwick and Richard and seven grandchildren. He is also survived by his mother, sisters and brothers all of Boston, Mass.

His family expresses its thanks for the floral tributes and Mass cards from the residents of Haliburton

Lake, all the merchants of Haliburton Lake, Haliburton Lake Cottagers Association of which he was a past president and members of the Dysart Council.

Funeral arrangements were from the R. S. Kane Funeral home with services at St Paschal Baylor Church, Willowdale with interment at the Holy Cross Cemetery.

Man charged in hit and run

Early Sunday morning a vehicle driven by Michael P. Thomas of Toronto sustained $2,000 damage when it failed to negotiate a curve due to a suspension failure. The vehicle entered the ditch on the north side of Hwy. 121 just east of Hwy. 35 striking a small tree.

These changes are clearly apparent with the relationship as Little Otter Lake moved along the curve from a highly enriched lake (Number 29) to a decidedly improved position (Number 30).

Couple celebrates anniversary

Mary and Elwin Robertson celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary with a family reunion dinner at Hunter's Horn Inn, on Sunday September 22.

Daren and Don Dunsmore and sons Andrew and James, of Winnipeg, were home at the Robertsons for the occasion. Don very ably acted as Master of Ceremonies at the anniversary party where 69 guests sat down to a sumptuous buffet dinner.

Rev. Sampson Littlewood of Baysville, officiating minister of 40 years ago, gave an interesting resume of the Robertson wedding. Mrs. Littlewood, soloist at the wedding, spoke briefly. Mr. Joseph Belford of Tottenham, groomsman Mrs Victoria Simpson of Sharon, flower girl and Mrs. Margaret Channon, Toronto, organist, were all present. Mrs. Helen Hickson of Toronto, bridesmaid was unable to be present.

Other guests present were from Hampton, Oshawa, Milton, Burlington, Barrie, Shanty Bay, Orillia, Trenton, Commanda, Minden, Ingoldsby and Haliburton.

Car hits tree

As a result of an accident in Monmouth Township on Saturday, October 5, Bruce E. Butterworth, 23, of Cannington has been charged with failing to report an accident in which he lost control of his vehicle and struck a tree stump causing $600.00 damage to his car.

The driver suffered cuts. This incident was investigated by Constable J.E.B. Ladurantaye.

Drug benefit plan explained

By Glen Hodgson MPP

The Ontario Drug Benefit Plan is a new programme which came into effect on September 1st, 1974. Through the plan, approximately 548,000 people in Ontario on limited budgets will be able to receive essential medication free of charge. In addition, individuals who are maintained on costly drug therapy will be able to remain at home rather than in an institution.

As with any new programme, there are inevitably some problems at the beginning. The overall advantages of this new drug plan, however, far outweigh any initial difficulties which may occur.

Since the implementation of the Ontario Drug Benefit Plan, I have received many inquiries from constituents of Victoria-Haliburton. I felt that the following "question and answer" format might be of value in clarifying some of the difficulties.

Q. Who is eligible for the Ontario Drug Benefit Programme?

A. Those who qualify for this programme include: 1. Family Benefit Allowance (F.B.A.) recipients. 2. Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement (G.I.S.) recipients; and 3. Special benefit recipients - people over 65 with 5 years Canadian residency, of which the last year was spent in Ontario.

Q. Must I apply for the drug benefit programme?

A. Applications are not necessary. F.B.A. recipients will receive their drug card in the form of a cheque stub each month attached to their family benefit cheque. G.I.S. recipients and special benefit recipients will receive individual drug cards for the months of September, October, November and December of this year and also for the months of January, February, March and April of 1975. Beginning in May, 1975, your drug card will be in the form of a cheque stub attached to your monthly allowance.

Q. How many times can my prescription be repeated without returning to physician?

A. Prescriptions will be valid for a period of three consecutive months, at which time a patient must see his or her physician for reassessment. This is designed to protect the patient from continuing on a prolonged period of treatment without consulting his physician. Exceptions are made for long-term therapy drugs.

Q. How many months supply of my prescription drug may I get at one time?

A. Only one month.

Q. Will I be able to purchase the exact same brand of drug which I have become accustomed to?

A. Under this programme, most brand drugs will not be available. But this does not mean that you will receive drugs of inferior quality. If the drug you require is listed in the PARCOST Comparative Drug Index as interchangeable, the drug used will be that of the lowest price. For example, there are eight brands of penicillin tablets listed under the PARCOST Index ranging in price from $2.50 for 100 tablets to $11.10 for 100 tablets. All eight brands have been judged to be of the same quality and therapeutic value. Therefore, the Ministry of Health will reimburse the pharmacist for the lowest priced penicillin.

Q. Are there any drugs not available under the drug benefit plan?

A. Many drugs with two or more ingredients are not on the approved drug list. The Drug Quality and Therapeutic Committee has advised the Ministry of Health that such combination drugs do not have as great a therapeutic value as single preparation drugs. However, their individual ingredients are and can be taken separately according to your doctor's directions.

Q. Will be able to purchase such pharmaceutical products as band-aids, bandages, syringes, rubbing alcohol, shampoos, etc.?

A. No. Only prescription drugs will be covered.

Q. Will I be able to use my drug card at any pharmacy?

A. You will be able to obtain prescribed drugs free of charge from any pharmacy displaying the PARCOST sign.

All prescriptions under the Drug Benefit Plan require the signature of your doctor. Therefore, please do not forget to tell him that you are entitled to the drug benefit.

If you have not yet received your drug benefit card, or if you have any further questions, dial "0 AND ASK THE OPERATOR FOR Zenith 8-2000.

News Letter

It won't be too long now before the ice will be going in at the Haliburton Arena and we understand that the Haliburton Junior Huskies are already making plans to open their training camp.

Thanksgiving weekend is coming up and local hotels, resorts and restaurants in most cases are advertising their thanksgiving dinners.

If you would like to bowl why not call Medley's at 489-2102. Extra bowlers are needed for mixed leagues. Tuesday at 9:00 p.m. and Thursday at 1:30, also High School Students for Friday nights.

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School football team is off to a real fast start in its football schedule. After winning its first game in Lindsay the team returned back to its home field at Haliburton and really went after the Fenelon Falls team and came out of the game with a 41-7 victory. Keep up the good work boys. We are rooting for you.

A recent speaker at the Rotary Club of Haliburton was Sandy Veyssiere from the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce. He gave a very interesting and informative presentation of slides from his trade mission to China.

Speaking of Rotary, the Rotary Club of Haliburton were first in attendance for the month of September and the Minden club were second. So there you have it the two local clubs were right up their on top in district 701.

The Annual meeting of the Haliburton Curling Club was held at the curling rink on Wednesday evening October 9. All indications point to another big year for the local curling club.

Along the trails

By Roy Bates

Wasn't that a beautiful sight last Wednesday morning! I cannot recall every before seeing snow-laden trees at the height of autumn colour. Sheer ecstasy! Pure delight! But not to those people who were without electric power because of it.

I wonder how many snowmobiles were cranked up that day. And I wonder how many refused to start. I got around to mine after work and both ticked over without undue trouble. One, a single cylinder job, had a stuck carburetor pump. A light rap with a small wrench freed it. The twin required some choking assistance with a hand over the air intake. Both were given a richer setting of the low speed jet to burn the old gas left in the tanks last April. This year there was no cloud of steam on first starting. A waxed paper cover on the airhorn had prevented accumulation of condensation and water-fouled plugs. Both machines sat outside all summer, one covered, one not. The covered one was dripping with condensation. Next year, no cover. At least not a tightly fitted one.

(We will be pleased to pass along YOUR tried and proven tips for summer lay-up or for pre-season preparation)

Last week was one of those times when I had nothing to write about. I am still waiting for your letters. And while you have pen and paper out, why not a letter to your MPP. And the Ministry of Industry and Tourism, the Ministry of Transportation and Communication, and the Minister of Natural Resources. Or to the Premier. Or anyone else you know in Queens Park. They are still dragging their feet down there. We were promised a snowmobile trails program more than a year ago. If you find out what has happened to it let me know. If you find out what they are doing with our two million dollars let me know. They are about to start the collection for this year which will be two and a half millions or more. I am tired of submitting to this robbery. And I think you are. So it's time to holler.

There is little hope now that you will get your money's worth out of this year's registration, but you could help us work toward next year. One way of doing this is to support your Haliburton County Snowmobile Association. It needs the strength of your numbers. And your five dollars membership fee WILL go where your registration fee SHOULD be going - along the trails.

SNOWBALL NUMBER THREE, the HCSA's first dance of the season, is shaping up to be a fun filled evening. There'll be excellent music, lots of special prizes, and refreshments and hot pizzas available. Have a good time October 19. The Legion Hall Haliburton.

Also at Fort Irwin, the business known as Bayview Birches Restaurant has changed hands since last season. The new owners will continue the snowmobile repair service and will have fuel available at this favored topping-up point.

Give and let live

On Monday, October 21st, the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic will be held at Haliburton and we urge everyone who can to make plans now to attend this clinic.

Blood donors who will be attending this Clinic might be interested to know that your unit of blood travels in a refrigerated truck to the Red Cross Laboratory for this area in Toronto. There it is carefully checked for type A.B.O.AB. - and for the RH factor. The technicians also test the blood for Hepatitis and other communicable diseases.

When the testing is completed, the blood is either used as whole blood, or in component form, such as Cryoprecipitate. In this way one unit of your blood may help several patients.

By giving blood at this clinic you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have helped the area "A" blood bank meet the daily requirements of 800 units. Don't forget you will be eligible to donate again in three months.

Give-Let Live, be a regular Blood Donor.

Railways played vital role in Haliburton

Last week we received a brochure that was handed out to the passengers on the Upper Canada Railway Society's color special that came to Haliburton last Saturday for Festacolor.

On one of the inside pages we noticed a short history of the railway that includes the Haliburton line. We quote from that brochure.

The railroads have played a vital part in the area we tour today. The story began in 1853 when The Port Hope and Lindsay Railway renewed its charter and planned to extend westward to link up with the Ontario, Simcoe and Huron Railway. The first train into Lindsay arrived from Port Hope in October 1857 and for 14 years Lindsay was the terminus. In 1871 the road opened to Beaverton, under the new name of The Midland Railway of Canada. By 1873 it reached Orillia, and in 1878 was completed to Midland.

In 1868 The Toronto and Nipissing Railway Company was chartered to build a narrow gauge line from Toronto, through Uxbridge to Cobocok. The first section opened in July 1871 and the balance of the 87 miles was completed by autumn 1872. This line was 3' 6" gauge and the weight of the rail was 40 lbs. per yard.

In 1872 The Whitby and Port Perry Railway Company began to extend to Lindsay, and July 31, 1877 saw the inaugural trip on this 45 miles of track.

The fourth company involved was The Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, and Ottawa Valley Railway, soon to be called The Victoria Railway. Sod turning took place in Lindsay in August 1874; steel reached Kinmount in October 1876, and the 56 miles to Haliburton opened for traffic on November 26, 1878. Numerous attempts to complete the line to Mattawa on the mainline failed. At first this line branched off from the Midland Railway at "Victoria Junction" but soon extended down Victoria Avenue and shared the station built by the Whitby Railway in 1877. The first agent was James C. Leonard.

The town of Peterborough and southern townships of that country strenuously opposed the Victoria Railway 23 northern townships broke away to unite with 3 from Victoria County to form the Provisional County of Haliburton which was incorporated in 1874. The same financial opposition accounts for the incorporation of the village of Fenelon Falls that same year.

At Howland we shall see the remains of the turntable for The Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa Railway, which never was completed, and has long since gone out of existence. In Haliburton you will see C.N.R. engine 2616, long used on freight from Lindsay to Belleville.

Letters to the editor

To the Editor:

In October 3 issue of the Echo the one who submits "Gems of Truth" has tried to show that the church and the kingdom are two different things. This teaching is common among premillennialists.

In general they say that God was going to fulfill the prophecies of the kingdom of Christ at His first coming, but the plan was delayed until the second coming because the Jews as a whole rejected Christ. This made the church an alternate arrangement, but if you will read Ephesians 3:10-11 you can see that the church was according to God's eternal purpose. It was the church that God had in mind from the beginning of the world to the end of time "Unto him be glory in the church by Christ throughout all ages world without end" (Ephesians 3:21) The church will be here until the end of time.

In Daniel 2:44 it says, "And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom that shall never be destroyed." Daniel was talking about a dream that Nebuchadnezzar had. In this dream he saw four great empires: the Babylonian, the Medo-Persian, the Grecian and the Roman. During the time of this fourth empire (Roman) God was going to set up His kingdom. Now if God didn't set up His kingdom during those days, then the prophecy was false and God himself is indicted. Now Mr. Brubacher said in the third paragraph of the article "Let God be true and every man a liar." (Romans 3:4) Now you decide it was Daniel, who was speaking for God, telling the truth?

Luke 2:1 says that Jesus was born in "the days of Caesar Augustus," and we all know that he was a Roman ruler. So Christ was born at the right time according to the prophecy.

Mark 1:14-15 We find Jesus "preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying, THE TIME IS FULFILLED, and the kingdom of God IS AT HAND..." remember that Christ spoke these words almost 2,000 years ago. Jesus also said in Mark 9:1 "Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have SEEN THE KINGDOM OF GOD COME WITH POWER." If the kingdom did not come at that time, then there are some 2,000 year old men hiding around somewhere waiting for that promise of Christ to be fulfilled.

John 3:5 here Jesus says that the new birth puts one into the kingdom of God. But if the kingdom does not exist, then no one is in it, and if no one is in it, then no one has been "born again".

Let us look at Colossians 1:13 "Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and HATH TRANSLATED US INTO THE KINGDOM OF HIS DEAR SON." How could those people at Colosse be translated into something that was not in existence? Also if the kingdom is not in existence, then all of the world is under the power of darkness.

Perhaps there are some who read this who would be willing to debate in public their beliefs on this subject, if so the church of Christ in Haliburton would be happy to arrange for a public discussion.

James Hughett
Haliburton

To the editor:

My letter concerns the somewhat slanted view of your newspaper concerning the restructuring of the Provisional County of Haliburton. I question your 'first-hand' knowledge of this programme. From time to time your paper has commented on it, but have you investigated the actual facts?

Did those members of County Council who voted for a realignment study (which system has proven to be inefficient) do so knowing that some people are entirely unaware of the costs involved? I am one of the five Council members in the Township of Lutterworth who voted unanimously to reject the proposed study of realignment for this County for the following reasons:-

1. Our own M.P.P. Glen Hodgson stated, and I quote: "The government is not forcing realignment or regional government on the county, but if the county so wishes, we the government would help to pay for a portion of the cost of the study." He went on to advise that the County should not "change only for the sake of changing".

2. A preliminary study of realignment in this County would be conducted by a planning firm appointed by the government and may cost as much as $100,000.00.

3. I feel that regional or realigned government removes governing from the people. What then?

4. The economy of the Provisional County of Haliburton depends on small businesses, tourists, retired people, and individuals on fixed incomes. Now I ask, using the common sense that I have, could we the people of this County cope with the staggering cost of implementing regional government or realignment, and would we be able to carry the burden of subsequent higher taxation?

5. In order to keep municipal costs down, our councillors receive the amount of $400.00 per year. I am quite sure that under a realigned system the council costs would be much higher.

I therefore propose that in fairness to all, the decision should rest with the elector. Let the question be placed before the people and the majority rule. My only concern is for the taxpayers whom I represent.

Thank you in advance for publishing this letter. I remain

Yours truly,
Lloyd Walker
Deputy Reeve,

LET ME TELL YOU
ABOUT THE FUTURE

BILL SMILEY

This week, I'm going to make two predictions. For too long, I've been hiding my light under a bushel, when it comes to forecasting, and it's time to come out from under the bushel and reveal that I am somewhat of a seer, when it comes to the future.

Years ago, I came out against capital punishment. It was done away with. I said we should let Red China into the U.N. It was done. I said the trout were disappearing from our streams, because of pollution. They did. I suggested I would never be rich. I'm not.

But nobody paid any attention. Only within the family did anyone realize that I had the gift of prophecy. I told my son, "If you don't stop goofing around, you're going to flunk out of college." He did. I told my wife, "If you don't stop worrying so much about everything, you'll be a nervous wreck." She is. I told my daughter,

"If you pick that baby up every time he utters a whimper, he'll be spoiled silly." He is.

You see, even my own family didn't put much faith in me, even though I'm always right. I'm somewhat like Cassandra, the lady from ancient Troy, who was given the gift of foreseeing the future, and, at the same time, the curse that nobody would ever believe her.

O.K. It's time to go public. If I'm right, I'll have politicians and poets, actors and authors, beating a path, to my door. Will I win? Will I be famous? Will I wow them? Will I write the great Canadian novel?

I've decided to take on an assistant, though it's only to keep his mother from starving in a cockroach-ridden apartment.

He will be Nikov Chen, my grandbabby. He's half fey Irish and half romantic German and half blunt Canadian. That makes him 150 per cent. A natural. If he chortles, I'll tell my whining clients "Yes". If his face wrinkles and he starts to whimper, as he does, I'll give my customers a blunt, "No." We should make a million. With the new child labour laws, I'll probably have to give him ten per cent.

Well, here's my first prediction. This is being written after the first half of the Canada-Russia series. They are all tied up.

With that group of tottery old men, who have given a great account of themselves, and those unknown young players, make up the WHL team, it takes a lot of courage to come out with a blunt forecast of the final result.

But here it is. I predict — and if I'm not right on the nose, I'll drink a bottle of vodka on the town hall steps — that 2,400 of the 2,500 Canadians going to Russia for the games there will be drunk sixty per cent of the time, and hung over the other forty per cent.

As for the series itself, what does it matter who wins? It's only a game, though a rather entrancing combination of ballet and mayhem.

Besides, Canadians are the biggest sports cry-babies in the world. If we lose, we were robbed. If we win, it's a victory of free enterprise over authoritarianism. This is a nation of Monday morning quarterback and late Saturday night referees.

We're a nation of experts, especially in hockey. After all, for several generations, all that the world knew Canada was any good at was producing maple syrup, rye whiskey and hockey players.

I've heard women who wouldn't know a shift from a nylon slip castigating the Canadian players for all sorts of sins.

I've heard mature men, who couldn't even skate on their ankles when they were kids, shouting obscenities at our players because, "They're not hitting enough, fergawsake."

I've heard teenagers of both sexes cheer when some Canadian ape rammed his stick into a Russian's teeth.

Well, that's my first prediction. The second is that I'm going to win Mayor Drapoo's lottery. First prize. A cool million, tax free.

This prediction is based on a combination of prophecy and logic, not just a wild hunch.

Look. In the past two years, I've broken my toe, my nose, two ribs, and the law. I'm not saying that the Lord is picking on me. I just don't think he's been keeping an eye on this little sparrow, when he falls.

It's time for a different kind of break, and the law of averages suggests to the occult side of me, that it's going to be the Big Million.

Minden W.I. meeting

On Sept. 18 22 ladies travelled to the home of Mrs Alice Todd for the September meeting of the Women's Institute.

The President, Mrs M. Sears called the meeting to order and after preliminary business was dealt with, Mrs Allan Taylor reported sending 66 cards over the summer months.

Mrs A. Todd, Convenor of Family and Consumer Affairs, gave a short paper on textiles and passed out pamphlets for the members to keep and study so that one could be sure to get what one was paying for. Today that is something we have to be careful about, as our money will just stretch so far and no farther.

The Roll Call for the meeting was "A Shopping Beef" and these beefs were many and varied, but it all pointed to one question, "Why so many prices varied even in Minden? And what could be done about it?"

It was decided to sponsor a special project for the schools of Haliburton County. This Project to be shown and judged at Minden Fair in 1975 and the prize money to be raised from $20 to $25.

The hostesses who volunteered to serve tea at Hyland Crest Home on Thursday October 31 were Mrs Alice Todd, Mrs A. Windsor, Mrs J. Hulbig and Mrs Jean Taylor. A Card Party was planned for September 23 at the Orange Hall with members offering lunch and prizes. The October Meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Lyman Cox on Wednesday October 16, all members meeting first at the Post Office at 1:30. The meeting was then closed and the members enjoyed a social time over the teacups.

My trip to Haliburton

BY VELMA HAMILTON

As I sit at my typewriter the orange mid half-moon of late July is setting in the south west. The view from my 11th floor apartment never ceases to amaze me. With the neatly cultured gardens of the moneyied class homes below .. their many lighted swimming pools that stretch about two miles to the Woodbine Race Track .. and the busy Air Terminals less than five there is a constant activity as the huge 747's and other lines that I've learned to distinguish glide in or out and sometimes over our apartment as their flight path varies. There is one every three minutes of the day and most of the night.

There is not one highrise (nor ever will be) to block my vision to horizon at the escarpment near Burlington and Hamilton, yet several communities stretch out with hardly a vacant spot.

The sunsets are glorious ... the new moons are just fingerlings. I wished last week for it to be on the DARK side on August 11th and 12th so I'd be able to see the annual shower of meteors. Tonight I can faintly distinguish the Great Dipper. Jupiter is not rising until near midnight...Mars the early star has set and Venus that used to be the first star after sunset is now an early morning, very brilliant showing about two hours before sunrise in the east. In Haliburton one feels as if they are aboard ship and the Milky Way is so close one feels the stars hang low like daisies...They seem as if one could pick them.

The Perseids are showers of shooting stars from the radiant point in the constellation Perseus discovered more than 2,000 years ago by an astrologer yet they appear annually prior and after midnight as regularly as the sun rises...

While living in New Brunswick, at Chaleur Bay, the natives called them the 'Tears of St. Lawrence'. Over most parts of Canada the shower was truly a rich one in 1966. I was at Haliburton Lake roughing it in an old mill shack with my six year old grandson. He was scared but none ever hit the earth. They disappear in the atmosphere.

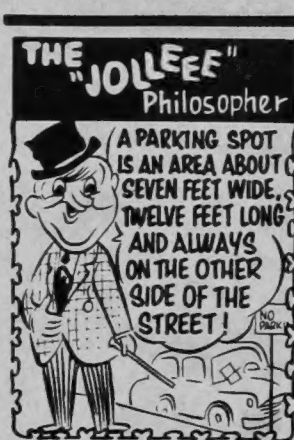

Lazy year, I and some friends at Drag Lake Lodge, were most disappointed. We waited on the swim deck until after four a.m., but the full moon was so bright not a star could be seen. As they had never witnessed them before I'm certain they did not believe me.

The fishing was excellent and the Americans who come year after year into the fourth generation with their wives, children, grandchildren in cutie bikinis, and grandmothers with their poodles enjoyed the excitement of getting their limit and didn't mind having to throw back their overcatch. I noticed in a recent ECHO that a young lad caught an exceptionally large fish at Drag Lake early this season. They may not be as lucky this year because of the dark of the moon .. and I may be disappointed .. it might rain. But in any case we will all be happy, comfortable, satisfied, and completely at rest through the courteous management, excellent food (especially the oatmeal bread) comfortable but not deluxe or licensed luxurious styled lodges that are only misplaced Airline Strip drinking holes .. not true, delightfully planned cabins among the pines and birches over fifty years old that surround the narrow, sparkling, deep but not treacherous lake .. and the pleasant university girls and kitchen staff under the management of Mrs. Miriam Lyons .. where quality, courtesy, cleanliness and pleasant informality are the essential requisites of Drag Lake Lodge. I have lived in several fine fishing areas from New Brunswick to the Yukon Territories, and always managed to get someone to take me to a good stream or pool at their earliest convenience. I always carry my equipment, as well as, camera and binoculars .. Off Newfoundland we sat in chairs with heavy lines waiting for a school of cod. At Gaspe the salmon was famous and plentiful but we were allowed only one a month in 1929 because the packers bought them up for $1.00 a pound for the New York Market. Lobster was plentiful and we could have all we wanted and also dug for clams for delicious natural chowder. No, wonder Restigouche salmon is $4.25 a pound at Eatons today. All the larger streams were leased to wealthy American Clubs, with "NO TRESPASSING" signs all over, but one night when the tide was out on the Eel River we waded up the muddy stream, and caught

Now: a new minimum Wage in Ontario

Effective October 1st, 1974

Ontario's new minimum wage covers people employed in general industry, construction work, domestic service, ambulance service, funeral service, including students and learners.

If you or your employees fall into these categories, it is important for you to know what the law now requires.

People employed by agencies as domestics, and people working as funeral directors or embalmers must now be paid not less than $2.25 an hour. Learners in General industry must be paid at least $2.15 an hour during their first month of employment and at least $2.25 per hour thereafter. People employed in construction work or as construction site guards are now entitled to at least $2.50 an hour. There is no learner rate for the construction industry. Ambulance drivers, helpers, and first-aid attendants must now receive at least $108.00 per week or, if they work fewer than 48 hours a week, $2.25 an hour. Students under 18 who work 28 hours a week or less, or during school holidays, must receive at least $1.90 per hour.

When employees occupy a room or eat meals supplied by their employer, $9.00 per week for the room and $1.00 for each meal or $21.00 per week for meals or $30.00 a week for room and meals may be included when calculating the minimum wage.

As for overtime pay, until December 31, 1974, it will be 1 1/2 times the regular pay after 48 hours a week. From January 1, 1975 on, the time-and-one-half rate will apply after 44 hours a week. And from January 1, 1975 on, there will be three more holidays with pay—New Year's Day, Victoria Day, and Thanksgiving Day—added to the current statutory holidays: Good Friday, Dominion Day, Labour Day, and Christmas.

My trip to Haliburton

85 speckled beauties. Every stream in Quebec offers plenty of fish of most varieties. Ontario, with its thousands of beauty spots has much to offer. I've caught Lake Trout at Kenora, big Quananiche in sparkling Trout Lake at the head waters of the Ottawa River, and been in the pickerel run in Lake Nipissing. Also Ranger Lake north of the Saut has a most beautiful, shiny silver streak and the deep waters of Lake Superior offer another type of lake trout varying in pounds up to fifteen. Being the only Canadian woman allowed to go the entire length of the Alaska-CANADIAN Highway (because not one inch goes into Alaska proper) I realized then just how much in real sport Canada had to offer .. but instead of it being developed and towns and villages and transportation because they have two crops to a season up there with no outlet, it is mostly harvested of fish by wealthy men in huge freezer equipped planes who are robbing us of one of our best natural resources. I had the best time of my life fishing in the TETSA RIVER, a tributary of the majestic Liard. I had hip waders and a little bit of northern hamburger, belly pork and beef on my line. I went out to midstream .. It was fast because it was mid-May. My guide was a man from Texas but I beat him and held the record for the next year with my catch of an 18" Dolly Varden, a 21" Dolly Varden (believe that one was the female) and a Kejulik Grayling .. very rare in those waters .. When I got my strike I was so excited I just threw my pole to the shore, tangling the line and not even waiting for the expensive paraphernalia Tex was offering me. I was up to my hips in the deeper pools but quietened down when I was ready to cast again. Thank goodness I have pictures and slides of that experience...

Since my first trip up to God's country on the occasion of the birth of my first grandchild, I did not know much about Haliburton-Victoria County. My eighteen-year-old son bought a used car for $50. We thought we'd never arrive up and down those hills but the autumn colour kept us in utter amazement and we took about eight hours. Now, with all the advanced road improvement, cut through the deepest of sheer rock and granite all I miss in some parts are the beautiful trilliums, Ontario's native flower, that were bulldozed out of sight but SUCH IS PROGRESS.

Spot checks of fishermen help to catch offenders

By Ross Beagan
Information Officer

Several times a year, the Ministry of Natural Resources in co-operation with the Ontario Provincial Police conduct spotchecks of fishermen in Ontario. Over the years, they have discovered that roughly one fisherman in ten commits an offence under The Game and Fish Act.

Many charges are laid for possession of "out of season" fish, while a shocking number of other charges relate to exceeding allowable catch limits. In the past year, one charge at least has been laid where fishermen have exceeded the legal limit by 200 or more fish!

In order to discourage these offences, Conservation Officers of the Ministry of Natural Resources set up road-blocks to thoroughly inspect each vehicle carrying fishermen. Residents of Ontario are issued summonses for infractions, while out-of-province offenders are required to post a cash bond to cover estimated fines. Fines can range from $50.00 upwards plus $5.00 to $10.00 for fish in excess of legal limits. Fines totalling in excess of $1,000.00 are not uncommon, and fishing gear can also be confiscated.

One of the real problems encountered on spot-checks is the discovery of fish already cleaned, filleted, or frozen such as to render their number and species unidentifiable. Since this is also an offense to transport such fish, fishermen are advised to either transport their fish intact or to leave a portion of scale on each fillet.

Spot checks to date have been undertaken in the Parry Sound and Bracebridge Districts, while similar ones are planned for the Districts of Bancroft, Minden, Pembroke and Algonquin Park. forty charges have been laid, with fines forecast to exceed two-thousand dollars.

Uncle Dudley's Column Memories

Please accept apology for the failure to produce a column for a week or two.

The past few days have been very varied in the warp and woof of human history in this area.

The loss of life in the incident, I cannot truthfully refer to it as an accident, to the Browndale Community, on highway 530 at the foot of Grass Lake is to be deplored.

Individuals under the influence of liquor should be restricted in driving for a period that would be some detrement to them.

I join with all concerned in this unfortunate affair, and trust close attention will be given in licensing habitual drunkards.

Thw weekend activities were quite a success, weather frowned on us, could it be we are making the sabbath a day of carousal instead of a day of worship and prayers - we might give it some thought.

Saturdays activities at Haliburton was well attended and the large crowd was well rewarded in the programme presented.

The thanks of the community go out to those in charge of the programme, such affairs do not happen, they must be planned.

It was very regrettable that the airport doings were so restricted by rain. I have not heard of a postponed date which would be announced.

Relative to the weekend activities, I am pleased to pay tribute to a fine young friend Lt. Col. Neil Russell. Neil is the son of my long life time and well beloved neighbours Sinclair and Mabel Russell. The other two sons are filling a useful role in other places and along different lines of endeavour.

I have always maintained our young people will give a good account of themselves when opportunity is provided.

I must not take up more space, will meet you next week D.V.

PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Minden W. I. Colour Tour

When the Women's Institute planned their fall Bus Trip it was to see the beauty of the fall colour but when they left Minden on October 2 all they saw was snow. The ground was white and the trees covered, with some of the beauty of the leaves peeping through the snow covered branches. Nothing daunted the 40 ladies, a gentleman and wee lassie who took the trip and they proceeded to make the most of their outing. Their first stop was at Bancroft where they visited the Wool Shop then on towards Peterborough. A visit to the Pine Grove Cheese Factory proved very interesting as well as financially beneficial to the store, then on to Lakefield and past the lift locks and on into Peterborough where the first stop was made at the K Mart Shopping Plaza. It was there the group split up for a few hours and some went to Towers and some to Simpson-Sears, then gradually the bus filled up again with passengers and parcels and we headed for home.

By this time there was no sign of snow and from Lindsay north to Minden the Highway 35 was beautiful with colour and the closer we got to home the more colourful the trees were and it was just 6 p.m. when the ladies got out of the bus on Main Street.

This was the fourth Colour Tour tip taken by the Women's Institute but the first where all we saw for 50 miles was snow, but thanks to our congenial bus driver, Bill Holland, we didn't mind the trip and we'll do it again, but next year we hope the grass is green not white.

Flying over the Atlantic Ocean

by S. Armstrong Goff

To see the sunrise from a plane at 37,000 feet is something to be remembered for a lifetime, when flying east at night over the Atlantic.

The first indication is a faint glow as though one were approaching a city. But the glow persists and it gradually widens as one becomes aware that it is the light of the sun in an area which one has not yet reached.

The stars are bright and the moon is reflected on fluffy clouds below. But that glow keeps widening and presently a reddish-orange streak appears below.

This brilliant streak keeps getting larger and wider while the blue above it becomes lighter in hue, contrasting with the dark blue of the sky above. The stars begin to disappear and far below objects begin slowly to take shape in shadowy form. The clouds below become more visible.

At last one can see the outline of the plane carrying one toward the sun.

The clouds below now become like fluffy balls of cotton wool against the dark blue of the Atlantic. As we approach land the clouds become more dense and presently we are flying over solid white flooring with occasional breaks of the dark blue water breaking through while the sun begins to reflect on the burnished parts of the plane like polished gold.

Light slowly begins to filter through the windows of the plane and we no longer need the lights of the plane to read or write. At last the full glory of the morning sun breaks in all its powerful brilliance and everything becomes bathed in the warming rays of the sun and even the smallest tree or shrub is plainly visible. We touch down and once again are in the busy world away from the world of magic through which we have journeyed.

OPP purchase two helicopters

The Ontario Provincial Police has purchased two Bell Jet Ranger helicopters to complement the force's existing fleet of fixed-wing aircraft, Solicitor General George A. Kerr, Q. C., announced today.

In commenting on this expansion of OPP services, Commissioner H.H. Graham said, "The use of the two helicopters will add greater flexibility to the movement of OPP personnel, and will help the force provide even better protection and service to the people of Ontario."

The force will take delivery of the helicopters on October 21, 1974. They will be put in service as soon as they have been outfitted with OPP identification decals, radio, loudspeakers, searchlights, and other safety and rescue equipment.

The helicopters will be based near Toronto and will be used in a wide variety of support and emergency roles across the province.

A number of OPP members are experienced pilots who already hold a commercial licence. In addition, several are licenced helicopter pilots. After a brief training and familiarization period they will pilot the new acquisitions.

The Jet Rangers are capable of carrying four passengers. They have a maximum cruising speed of 142 miles per hour and a cruising range of 372 miles. They will have high skid landing equipment that is interchangeable with fixed floats. They will have an internal cargo hook and hoist equipment.

Currently, the OPP operates six fixed-wing aircraft under lease. In addition, they have acquired a Turbo Beaver which will soon be operational in providing improved policing service to remote communities in the northwestern region of Ontario. Six Cessna 172 aircraft are used in Southern Ontario for traffic enforcement patrols, and search and rescue operations.

At Kennisis Lake

How things have changed

Elmer is a local resident living in Minden, retired from logging, guiding fishermen, hunters, road planning and timber cruising whose father Ben Sawyer was born at Maple Lake and pioneered in this county.

In 1924 my father, Ben Sawyer, along with Sam Redner, Frank Thomas (of Deer Lodge), and three men from Dunsford went up to the hunt camp at Kennisis Lake.

We packed our groceries, blankets, etc., and loaded a wagon. My brother, Ross Sawyer, took us to Mud Lake where our journey began. We went up Mud Lake, Bear Lake, Horn Lake, Lipsey Lake, and to the foot of the now famous Kennisis Lake, and up to Little Kennisis. My canoe was in good shape and I got there first. It was after dark so I lit a fire on a rock, and it was not long before a voice said, "Brand it up; we are all wet." One of the canoes had upset, and we went into Copper's Camp which was built before the turn of the century.

The next day, we went on up to Wolf Lake to a trapper's cabin. This belonged to Walter Johnson. It was 8 feet wide and 10 feet long with one single bed made of round poles and covered with balsam brush. What a place for seven men to sleep! It was built of logs with split cedar on the roof, and chinked with cedar and moss. There was one small tin stove, and a small bench -- used for a table. There was a lantern but no oil. The wash dish was outside on a stump.

We cut some fire wood and then settled down to hunt. There were no dog pens so I shared my blankets with the dogs. We were there for five days and had four deer. While on our way back by Redstone, the dogs decided they both should claim the deer that I had in my canoe, and I lost the paddle but made to shore using my hands, got an extra paddle from under the deer,

Manpower Statistics

Robert Andras, Minister of Manpower and Immigration, today announced changes in regulations governing the department's placement service which will give manpower counsellors greater flexibility in referring workers to employers.

The Minister emphasized that suitability of skills for the job has been, and will continue to be, the primary basis for referrals.

When one or more workers meet the performance requirements of a position, however, the revised regulations will allow the Counsellor more flexibility in referring people who have special problems or needs such as family responsibilities or long-term unemployment. Length of registration with the Manpower centre will no longer be a preferential factor in referral of workers to jobs.

Dick Kenzie, Manager of the Canada Manpower Centre in Peterborough, states that the Counsellors in that CMC will be following the new regulations immediately.

Gems of Truth

VALUE OF CHURCH TO SOCIAL ORDER

"Ye are the salt of the earth ... ye are the light of the world". Matthew 5:12-13

Since Jesus Himself was the Creator of the heavens and the earth and since "by Him" were all things made, Colossians 1:16-17 He certainly knew the full implication of His words when He called true followers of His both "light" and "salt" in the same breath.

Much has been said about salt, its value, its incomprehensible nature, its therapeutic value, its power as a preservative, its strange effect in arousing thirst in man, which all makes it a real figure of true Christian influence. It takes a very small percentage of salt in a given mass to make the entire portion palatable. Jesus never said that the entire world of men was to become salt. What He did say was that only as long as the true gospel is preached the earth should not lack a saving flavour.

One can not help but marvel at the ancient Roman world to see how is life, customs, manners and morals were changed by the influence of early Christianity. The progress of all civilization can be traced to the influence that the teachings of our Lord has had in bygone days. Even now, the so-called godless nations are benefitting and they conform to Christian ethics and the art of living is developed and vastly improved. Present world conditions lie in the lap of the Church who has lost its savour. For a full generation the Gospel has been in disrepute and modernism has robbed the thinking of many a nation and led them away from the true teachings of Jesus. Perhaps the so-called Christian nations deserve being trampled under for losing their preservative qualities as salt. True salt is a conservative factor, it is a strong deterrent to the sinful tendencies of man and our day and age needs a new infusion of true Christianity in a changing world.

Salt is very tangible and can be easily studied because it has structure and is very visible. How different is light! We can talk learnedly about "frequencies" and "wave lengths" while we know nothing of the essence or nature of that which we see. But we do know that "light" is different in almost every respect from salt. The difference is in action only. Salt loses its potency and savour as it is spread in all directions, but light is useful only as it send itself abroad. Here then is a perfect example of Christian influence.

When Jesus came to earth He could say that "I am the light of the world". But when He returned to Heaven the world would have gone back to darkness again if He had not left His followers here to be light in His stead and place.

The tragedy of this age is resident in a church full of savourless salt and composed of lights which are very dim and useless. Many times one hears about the need for a revival. Will not such come of itself when enough of God's redeemed people begin to shine?

Food for thought: "Salty, not crusty Christians are the Lord's delight."

At Kennisis Lake

How things have changed

got the dogs back in the canoe and on our way again.

We stayed in this cabin for two seasons. In 1926 we built a cabin on Little Kennisis (lot 26, conc. 5, Havelock Twp., Haliburton Cty.). This cabin was 16 x 24 feet. It was made of logs cut in wood and pulled in with ropes to the cabin site by men. This we used for a cookery and sleeper for two years. My mother did the cooking. She and my father slept in a tent. In 1928 we built another cabin - also 16 x 24 feet for a cookery, which we used for four hunts.

In 1932 we demolished the cabin built in 1926 and built one 18 x 32 feet which still stands. We had a horse to pull logs from the lake. The log work was almost finished when at noon, the horse decided to go home to Maple Lake. The trail was not marked so we just picked the best walking area. The horse took a short cut which finished his life. We looked for days before finding the body. He had tried to jump a muddy creek but failed. We got him out and took the harness off and left the remains for fox, martin, fisher, etc.

In 1934, we built two boats: 28 ft. long by 7 ft. wide, and 27 inches deep - one for Redstone and one for Kennisis. At that time, we would go by Eagle Lake (in where Bolder Brothers Stone Quarry is now located) between two little lakes named "Tea Pot" and "Frying Pan", and to Arnburg Bay on Big Redstone.

In 1942, the Hay Company came to Guilford Township where I went to work. My father and my brother Lorne operated the camp. In 1954 my mother passed away.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nunn took over the job of cooking until 1959 when my father decided he would quit deer hunting at the age of 85 years, and in 1959 my wife and I took it over.

In 1962 we killed 28 deer, two moose and five bear. The bear seemed to be so plentiful we decided we would start a bear hunt in the spring. The next spring (to our sorrow) we didn't even see one. But since that time we have got as high as nine bear and one wolf. In 1942 the Hay Company built a road to their camp on Pine Lake. My brother, Ross, was the bush foreman. In 1944, the Pennell Veneer Co. had put a road on into Kennisis Lake. A small saw mill was set up where the shopping centre is located now, and we could drive to there. By 1949, we could drive to the camp. This finished a lot of long hard hours on the lake besides carrying over the portage. The hunters would stay for two weeks at $35.00 per man with everything furnished: guides, dogs, lodging, transportation, etc.

I remember coming out for the mail. I left the camp at three o'clock in the afternoon and got home at 7:30, had my supper and started back arriving there at 1:30 a.m. Another time we had 70 cases of beer to take in before the hunt. It took a good many trips across the 3/4 mile portage. Another time, 65 cases had to go in. These were packed in two barrels. Going to Redstone, one barrel rolled out of the truck, and we couldn't put it back in so we had to open it and put the beer in bags and carry it. This was all in quart bottles. This time we changed our rules and all carried bottle openers - just in case.

In 1952, as the roads got extended further back, there were too many going into hunt. It was decided to put a charge on of $10.00 per man, and he had to be going to an organized camp. A gate was put on the road and a man was there to look after it. When the hunt was over the camp owner brought the list of names with his money to the office. It amounted to about $2,000. This was used to keep up the road. It was found that people would go in before the man came on duty at six o'clock in the morning so the gate was locked and each camp owner was given a key.

Later the company sold the lakeshore of Big and Little Kennisis and Big and Little Redstone (except some private lots) to Haliburton Development Company Limited. With an agreement, the original camp owner would get his camp and one acre of land at the same price as they paid the company per foot, plus cost of roads, surveying HEPC line, bridges and deeds, which was very fair. Later on the Company sold the balance of their holding to Haliburton Forest and Wild Life Reserve Ltd. which was approximately 69,000 acres. This is in Havelock, Guilford, Eyre, and Harburn Townships.

The hunting rules were changed and each camp owner paid by the acre (presently about 17 cents per acre) of which it mostly is under lease and can be used the year round. Everyone must stay within the laws of Ontario. At present there are about twenty-one different hunting gangs hunting in this area. There are neighbours all around but each gang has its own ground and they stay on it.

So if you want a real good holiday - go to the Kennisis area. At one time you could see our good neighbour Stan Cooper paddling down the lake, but now it is someone on water skis. At one time you could sit at the camp and see deer, bear or moose swimming across the lake, but now it is a high speed boat. At one time you could see game tracks on the ice, but now it is a snow machine track.

Forever too far, forever held dear.
Peace and happiness, Doug. The Family.

THORNE - In loving memory of my husband, Harvey, who passed away on September 24, 1971 and my son Richard who passed away on June 26, 1972. There is no parting from those we love, No distance can divide, For today, in memory's garden, We still walk side by side, Each dawning day, a thought of you, At eventide a prayer, In the hearts of those who loved you, You always will be there. Ever remembered by wife and mother, Lucille Thorne.

MISCIO - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away September 25, 1972. Though tears in our eyes do not glisten And our face is not always sad, There is never a night or a morning But we think of the Pap we had. In Memoriam

MINAKER - In loving memory of Edward who passed away October 15, 1973.

In tears we saw you sinking
We watched you fade away.
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping
So peaceful, free from pain,
We could not wish you back
To suffer that again.
Sadly missed by wife Irene, daughters Gwennyth, and Elaine and their families.

MISCIO - In loving memory of my Grandfather, Mike, who died September 25, 1972.

This month comes with sad regret,
It brings a day I'll never forget.
What I would give if I could say
I'll go and see my popa today.
I never knew that morning
The sorrow the day would bring
The end was so sudden, the shock so severe,
To lose my Popa so close and dear.
No one knows the grief I share
When our family meets and you're not there.
I only wish that you were here
For the day that is so near.
Sadly missed by granddaughter Ann, and future grandson-in-law, John.

STAMP - In loving memory of my dear son, Leon George who was killed in a car accident on October 12, 1973.
October comes with sad regrets
One sad and lonely year has passed.
The blow that I received that night
Was more than I could bear.
What it meant to lose you Leon,
No one will ever know
And in my sand and lonely heart
I keep on asking why.
What I would give if I could say
"Hi, Leon" in the same old way.
To hear your voice and see your smile
To sit with you and talk a while.
A million tears I've cried for you,
Many, many times, how I've needed you.
And when I stop thinking of you Leon,
Is when I'm called to be with you.
God only knows how I miss and love you son,
I'm so alone and lonely without you.
Sadly missed and always remembered by mother Hazel, Jack, Kathy, Debbie Irvine.

STAMP - In loving memory of my Mother, Ethel, who passed away eleven years ago, October 12, 1963. Beautiful memories I treasure ever,
Of happy days when we were together.
Always remembered by son, Dennis.

STAMP - In loving memory of my Mother, Ethel, who passed away eleven years ago, October 12, 1963. You are not forgotten, Mother, Nor ever will you be, As long as life and memory lasts, I will remember thee. Always remembered by son, Glenn.

FIRE KILLS...Be Careful!

DON'T PLAY WITH FIRE...PREVENT IT!

In the lumber industry, we're very aware of the heartache and personal disaster that fire brings. At home, in a place of business, wherever, fire has no regard as to where it strikes or who.

A fire at work means loss of property, loss of employment and sometimes loss of life. At home fire can be equally devastating.

The best way to combat this enemy is through common sense prevention. Each of us has to play a role in ensuring that fire does not strike at our home or place of work. Common sense preventative measures like controlled smoking areas, checking furnaces and stoves before they come into heavy use, proper storage of gasoline and other flammable chemicals and maintaining adequate and safe electrical wiring.

In the lumber industry, we know the immeasurable losses that fire brings. That's why we think it's important enough to bring you this message. Whether at home or at work, please, ... think about fire prevention. It's the only way to ensure your safety.
